SINCE my business is ADVERTISING, I am taking my own medicine by advertising myself.

I do not intend to boast about myself, but I do want to tell you what I think I can do.

There are many clever men in the field. I know I have the keenest competition to meet but that will not prevent me from getting my share of the business.

I feel so sure of being able to help some business men to do a greater business by adopting the style of advertising I believe in, that I will be willing to take a modest fee, as I am certain you would not like, in fairness to me, that I should render this service absolutely free of charge.

Domestic Occurrences.

On the death of my dearest mother Bai Sonabai Narayenrao Kanade who expired on Tuesday morning, 19th September, 1916.

Beauty and grace her gentle face adorned,
On her from birth all noble virtues dawned;
Chastity and faith, love and thoughts divine
Throughout her life did shed their lustrous shine.

But death, alas! her charms could not withstand
And struggled to retain her in his hand:
But God, in rescue, his grasp did sever
Clasping her to His bosom for ever.

Inspector Smith, armed with a warrant from the Commissioner of Police, raided a room on the second floor of a house in 18th Kamatipura, to arrest some persons who were alleged to be engaged in gambling in the room. The doors of the room were found fastened from the inside and before the police could get into the room, one Mahomed Hoosein alias Akwadi Hoosein, who it is alleged, was the keeper of the gambling house, got out of one of the windows and was walking along the edge to escape, when a portion of the edge gave way and he fell on the road, a height of thirty-five feet. He fractured the bridge of his nose, the left fore-arm and left thigh bone. He was removed to the Sir J. J. Hospital, where he was detained for treatment. Seven persons were arrested in the room.

FATALITY IN A MILL.

OPERATIVE CAUGHT IN REVOLVING BELT.

Dr. W. Nunan, Acting Coroner, held an inquest touching the death of Hanmanta Buchaya, a mill-hand, employed in the weaving department of the Standard Mill. The evidence was to the effect that the deceased found the belt of the loom which he was working, slack, and reported the matter to the muccadam. The latter took the belt off the pully and went for the key. In the meantime the deceased began to place it on the moving pully when the belt got caught in another belt and he was pulled up by the revolving belt, was turned round and thrown on one side, his body being mutilated. The jury returned a verdict of death from injuries received by the deceased having been caught in a revolving belt and added that the fatality was due to the disobedience of the muccadam's directions by the deceased.

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.

RECORD HOUSES.

Last Sunday night the Royal Opera House enjoyed two record houses for pictures and the management is to be congratulated upon providing such an excellent programme. First on the present bill is the Pathé Gazette. Then comes "The Pool of Flame," the last episode in the adventures of that popular screen hero, Terence O'Rourke. This is a five reel feature which is being loudly applauded at every interesting stage. Last on the programme is one of the best comics we have seen for a long time.—"It Nearly Happened." The orchestra also comes in for special praise. The programme gives the names of no fewer than eighteen numbers, including many lively selections from musical comedies. So well are they arranged that they fit in perfectly with the picture they accompany.

"FASCINATING FINANCE."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "CHRONICLE."

Sir,—I cannot but heartily support the views expressed by "Investor" in his letter of this date in respect of the proposed Sir Shapurji Bharucha Mills Ltd. Speaking on behalf of the shareholders of the group of Mills under the management of Messrs. Greaves Cotton & Co. and which recently went into liquidation, it will be useful to give a few particulars just in order to show, how the shareholders' interests have been disregarded. Some time before the Mills were put into liquidation, a number of shareholders waited on Sir Shapurji with an earnest request that, as one of the Directors of the Mills, he would assist the shareholders in reconstructing the Mills. The shareholders of all the mills combined to subscribe Rs. 100 each per share in order to reconstruct the mills and thus save them from ruin. Sir Shapurji gave them a very patient hearing but expressed the view that it was hopeless to reconstruct the mills. A similar proposal was made to Mr. Herbert R Greaves, but it appeared he had no sympathy for the project. In this connection it must be said to the great credit of Mr. Miller, the Agent of the Chartered Bank, that as Chairman of the Bankers' Association, he willingly sympathised with the movement of the shareholders, and expressed a warm desire to help them in reconstructing the mills,—he even went so far as to promise his support if the mills could be reconstructed, as he was firmly of opinion that the mills were quite good and if properly managed, would at least earn 10 per cent on the investment even though there was a heavy debt hanging over them.

From the very first the shareholders were against the appointment of Sir Sassoon J. David as a liquidator and they tried every means in their power to get one of the shareholders' representative appointed as a liquidator as was done in the case of the Leopold Mills, which by the efforts of the liquidators who had acted without any remuneration, secured for the shareholders a distribution of Rs. 85 per share on which Rs. 100 had been paid up. That distribution of Rs. 85 per share was made after paying in full, all the debts of the mill. Sir Shapurji Bharucha and Sir Sassoon J. David along with Mr. Turner Green were at first appointed liquidators, but Sir Shapurji declined to act as liquidator on account of his ill-health.

Those who know something of the management of Mill Industries in Bombay, know how often little attention is paid or consideration shown to the shareholders.

The flotation of the group mills of Messrs. Greaves Cotton & Co., just at a time when Bombay is rolling in wealth on account of the war, was bound to be a successful venture. The whole affair has been like a regular windfall for the syndicate led by Sir Sassoon J. David, who, as one of the liquidators, was a trustee for the shareholders. For months past it was a foregone conclusion with the public of Bombay that, a syndicate had been formed, and were it not for the powerful hands of one of the liquidators, the shareholders, in the ordinary course of events would have been able to save something of their hard earned money, but in the present instance, the liquidators will get among themselves, a nett sum of Rs. 72,000 for their very disinterested efforts. As is always the case, when people are excited and speculation is rife on all sides, it is only a cry in the wilderness,—to say anything sober or sensible. There is yet time to have the whole course of this liquidation affair threshed out by an inquiry in a Court of Justice, when some very interesting particulars will be forthcoming.—Yours etc.

A SHAREHOLDER.

A BLUNDER RECTIFIED.

The system of the mis-called "rural" standards introduced by Lord Sydenham's Government has, as we have so often pointed out, stood condemned,—alike in its brief working and its inception,—by the weight of official and non-official opinion in the Presidency. The measure was ill-conceived, retrograde and uncalled for and its application was as misdirected as its inception was ill-conceived. It was enforced in the teeth of popular opposition, resentment, and apprehension; it proved a disaster as well as a failure. The harm that it was bound to produce and did produce was consistently brought to the notice of the Government,—apparently in vain as it seemed until a very short time ago. It seemed, in fact, as if the recognition of the failure of the measure would be long in coming. Fortunately the wheels of official machinery moved faster in this matter than is usual. The Press-Note on the abolition of rural standards which was published on Saturday has come as an agreeable surprise, as much because of the welcome decision to which the Government have arrived as of the refreshing candour which characterizes the general admission of past blunders, and the thoroughness with which they are undone. Lord Willingdon's Government is to be congratulated on this courageous rectification of the error of his predecessor.

We have on several occasions dealt exhaustively with the defects of the system, the chief counts against which have been that it has defeated its own object and has had a blighting effect on the natural development of education in the rural areas of the Presidency. This was inevitable in view of the two cardinal defects of the measure,—the character of the curriculum for the "rural" schools and the manner in which these schools were related,—or rather not related,—to the full primary schools. In the formulation of the curriculum the all-important fact, namely, the capacity of the village child to receive the knowledge sought to be imparted to it was completely lost sight of,—with the result that the course was overweighted. It aimed, in short, at teaching too much in the shortest time possible. The consequence was not surprising. Not only were the percentages of passes in the rural schools very low, but it not infrequently happened that the children had to drag on their studies for five or six years without, even unwittingly, digesting the compressed tabloids offered to them. Thus was the professed aim of the measure,—the imparting to the sons of the agriculturists a knowledge which the Educational Department, in its all comprehensive wisdom, considered suitable for them, hopelessly and completely defeated, as it was bound to be. "These Standards," as the Government say in the Press-Note, "have been commented upon diversely in the public press, and some responsible officers of the Educational Department have considered them too difficult. Others have been of opinion that the alleged difficulties were largely due to laziness and inefficiency on the part of the masters, and that the standards themselves were satisfactory." In 1915, the Press-Note proceeds, the Government in reviewing the annual report of the Director of Public Instruction accepted the opinion of inspecting officers,—not all the members of the inspecting staff it must be remembered,—that the rural school course was overweighted was not justified. That this endorsement of the view of inspecting officers was not given after full inquiries is frankly admitted.

"They (the Government) have, however, since then," we are told, "made further and fuller inquiries and are satisfied that the course laid down for 'rural' schools is really too difficult for the boys to complete within the prescribed time, and that what was intended to be a four years' course takes often five and sometimes six years to finish."

But that is not all. The child that, after all these difficulties, finished the three standards of the rural schools did not take long to lapse into illiteracy again equally grave, if not graver, result of the measure arose out of the want of any correlation of the standards in rural schools with those in full primary schools. This division of the fabric of primary education into two water-tight compartments could have and had only one result. It effectually debarred every year thousands of boys even from securing an opportunity of receiving English education. The immensity of the loss thus inflicted on the intellectual and general progress of the rural population can better be imagined than estimated. The admission contained in the Press-Note gives but an imperfect idea of the extent of the loss. "It is clear," Government observe,

"that the restriction of the 'rural' schools to a course comprising an infant and first three standards only has caused hardship to parents in rural areas who desire to send their children ultimately to an Anglo-Vernacular school. Rule 27 of the Grant-in-Aid Code lays down that except in special cases no boy speaking a recognized vernacular of the Presidency shall be admitted to schools in which English is taught unless he has passed the 4th Vernacular Standard."

Now, however, that Government having recognized the force of "criticism from time to time in the Legislative Council, in the public Press, and elsewhere," to which the system has been subjected, "have reconsidered the whole question and have arrived at the conclusion that the existing arrangements ought to be changed," it becomes unnecessary to pursue the examination of this aspect of the matter further. The question that should concern us most now is: What is to be the policy for the immediate future? Government have wisely decided that there should be no hard and fast distinction of schools into "full primary" and "rural" as at present; that there should be a common curriculum for all schools, whether they be situated in the larger or in the smaller villages; and that the curriculum should be the curriculum sanctioned for the schools known hitherto as "full primary." Thus has the inglorious attempt to force the sons of the bulk of the agriculturists not to aspire to any higher knowledge than an ill-assorted smattering of the three R's, seasoned with a little geography and a little account-keeping, met with the fate it deserved. No surer method than the one now repudiated could have been devised to keep the large majority of the population in a state of intellectual stagnation and, therefore, devoid of any progress in all the directions of national progress that matter. It is well known that there is much in the educational policy of the Government of Bombay that is a source of grave apprehension to all who are interested in the educational progress of the people. That at least one great blunder has been gracefully acknowledged and completely redeemed will go a long way towards restoring hope in the public mind that a right view of the lines on which educational development in the Presidency should proceed is now being taken by the Government.

THE KARNATIC COLLEGE.

The Karnatic College scheme seems to have been born under evil stars. Scarcely has the Artal incident closed than the proposal of a college in Belgaum is floated by Messrs. Lathe and Changala. It is absurd to suppose that the Karnatic can afford to have two colleges immediately. Even were there any such necessity, the Bombay University would think twice before granting any such permission. The Belgaum College scheme may have been proposed with all good intentions but the effect will be the indefinite postponement of the Karnatic College, for which the whole of the Karnatic has been working for the last seven years and for which nearly two lakhs have already been collected. It was the Karnatic College Association that did all the spade work in familiarising the people and Government with the idea that there was an urgent necessity for a college at Dharwar, the metropolis of the Karnatic. The idea of two colleges in the Karnatic in the immediate future being quite impracticable and unworkable, the claims of the prior college scheme, we hope, will not be overlooked either by the Government or the University. In fact, so far as both Government and the University are concerned the question has already been considered last year, and it has been decided by the University, at the instance of Sir Narayan Chandravarker, that the University will recognise the necessity of the Karnatic College at Dharwar and that the question of finances is to be left to be decided between the people of the Karnatic and the Bombay Government.

When things have been advanced so far it would be a blunder to take up any other scheme, even if it were inviting in all other respects. Government also cannot remain idle spectators any longer. The Karnatic College scheme has been ushered into the world with the blessings of the Government. They have pledged themselves to start the college. The University has welcomed the idea. Their plain duty now is to inform the Bombay University that they intend to start the Karnatic College shortly and take the project in hand early. The financial side of the question need not deter them. The funds collected by the people of the Karnatic will yield a handsome income and a second grade college can be started without any fear of creating fresh financial burdens during war time. We recommend to the Bombay Government the example of the sister Government of Madras. It cannot be seriously argued that the Bombay Government have to support any excessive burdens which the Madras Government have evaded. War has affected both equally. But the Madras Government have very recently started two additional colleges, one at Anantpur, in the Ceded Districts, and another in Madras itself. Madras has now thirty-four colleges, whereas we pack all our college-going population into eleven colleges.

The Bombay Government are showing signs of modelling their educational policy in accordance with public opinion. And the more they bring it into consonance with popular aspirations the more will it be backed by the public at large. In the field of education there need be no rivalry between Government and the people, except in the healthy sense as to who shall found more institutions. Government have accepted long ago the principle that they should establish a model college in every division. A large sum collected by the people is lying idle and the Belgaum College scheme shows, if anything, that the people are tired of waiting. No doubt it is audacious to think of starting a college with Rs. 16,000, three acres of land and a bungalow, as the Belgaum College Association proposes to do. But it expresses the feelings of the people. Government may well take a lesson from the present proposal and push forward their original scheme for the Karnatic College to a successful issue.

Notes of the Day.

Nemesis!

If the telegrams which we publish to-day contain an accurate reflection of what is now passing in Greece it would seem that King Constantine is at length overtaken by the nemesis which awaits constitutional monarchs who attempt to defy the sentiments of their people and the rules of the constitution. Such is the wave of revulsion of feeling against the King's policy which is passing over Greece, according to one message, that only the capital now remains under his influence. The revolutionary committee at Salonika is "assuming the functions of a constituted government and is issuing bonds and debentures exchangeable against the State loans. The navy is affected and one cruiser is suspected of the intention of making for Salonika to join the revolutionaries, while no less than 300 officers of the army are said to have reached Salonika for the same purpose. The Cabinet, which apparently began with an attempt to play the King's game against the Entente Powers, has now taken alarm and is doing its best to try and persuade the Entente Powers that it is pro-Entente.

The King's Only Chance.

M. Venizelos who undoubtedly has the ball at his feet and has only to declare himself, to be acclaimed as the leader of the revolution has now announced his intention of giving the King one more chance to heed the voice of the people before he decides that the time is ripe for the people themselves to devise what is best to do. Even Athens is placarded with appeals, or rather threats, to the King to draw the sword of kings or abdicate, and an entrenchment has been drawn up to protect the Palace. Too late, it would seem, King Constantine has realised that he tried the patience of the people too far. The long-suppressed discontent with his policy of hardly-veiled support of the Central Powers and sympathetic neutrality with the hereditary enemy has burst into active rebellion at the final treachery of Kavalla, which the King and Government have tried to veil by the despatch of a belated and useless ultimatum to Germany. It is undoubted that the King has lost his authority over and even the affection of the people and his only chance lies in committing himself to the care of M. Venizelos, in whose power alone it rests to restore him to the position of a King who has the confidence of his subjects.

The German Losses.

The outstanding feature of the last week's news from the Western front is that while the Allies are steadily making headway and consolidating their gains, the enemy is making frantic efforts for a spectacular advantage. The inevitable result is the vast disproportion between the losses sustained on both sides. The French communiqué,—always most reliable,—states that the total number of German prisoners captured since July 1 exceeds 55,800. A vivid light is thrown on this by the later cable that the defeat of the last reinforcements brought up has compelled Hindenburg to reduce the Verdun front by one-half while all the units taken from Verdun have been broken at the Somme by the British, including four divisions of the famous Prussian Guard. And, while Hindenburg is beset with appeals for troops from Austria and Bulgaria, the mad sacrifice of human life is allowed to continue on the Western front. We are not therefore surprised to learn that losses of some of the German regiments in the great counter-attack have been estimated as high as 60 per cent. and that the road from Combles to Rancourt was covered with dead sacrificed to no purpose.

Jury System in Madras.

Among the matters dealt with in the report on Criminal Statistics in the Madras Presidency made by the local High Court to the Government is the working of the jury system. The perusal of the criticisms which this system is as usual subjected to by some of the Sessions Judges is not a little amusing, if only for the fresh insight it affords into the curious frame of mind of a certain class of officials who seem honestly to believe that all the bad elements of administration are suited to this country, and not always all the good. Thus we find there are some Sessions Judges in Madras who are so uncompromising in their condemnation of the jury system that they can see nothing to commend in a system which they regard as quite unsuitable to the country.

All Shades of Opinion.

A typical example of this is the view of Mr. Jackson, District Judge of South Malabar, who says that the jury system is a thoroughly bad system and every sessions confirms his view. Fortunately there are some judges who have no fault to find with it whatever. Of these is Mr. Robert, District Judge of North Malabar, and therefore having experience of the same class of people, who was thoroughly pleased with the verdicts of the juries, which he thought perfectly sound, and those of the assessors, which were generally reasonable. Between these two extremes the report contains all shades of opinion, depreciatory and approving, but the Government refrain from making any comment on the diversity of opinions prevailing among the Judges. This silence we hope is due to their wise recognition that the jury system,—which by the way is not quite the exotic it is supposed to be,—has come to stay.

High Prices in America.

High food prices seem to be causing as much concern in the United States as in the belligerent countries. It is, however, according to "The American Review of Reviews," not the American working men who are complaining of high prices, but the salaried middle class. "America's labouring classes and proprietary classes are more prosperous than ever before, while the middle-classes are only normally prosperous, but with abnormally high prices to meet." High prices, the journal continues, have continued to stay in all the countries, and we should begin to adapt our other economies to them at once. Russia is another great food-producing country which is plagued with high prices. Our own country is not without them. In Great Britain the same question has lately engaged a good deal of attention.

POLITICAL CRISIS IN GERMANY.

PAN-GERMANS TRYING TO OVERTHROW CHANCELLOR.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
AMSTERDAM, Sept. 25.

A great political crisis is slowly developing in Germany. There is no doubt that pan-Germans are doing utmost to overthrow the Chancellor. The crisis is sequel to the publication of the correspondence between Admiral Tirpitz and Bethmann-Hollweg showing that the latter opposed the ruthless submarine warfare favoured by the pan-Germans.

EXPERIENCE OF A HENDERSON LINER.

DAMAGED DURING AERIAL FIGHT AT PORT SAID.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
(Delayed in transmission.)
RANGOON, Sept. 20.

A most exciting voyage is reported by Patrick Henderson's steamer Burma which arrived here from Home to-day. Everything went all right from the 19th August, the date of departure from Liverpool, until Port Said was reached on the 31st. The day after her arrival, a Turkish aeroplane raid was made on Port Said. There were two fighting machines and four bomb droppers used by the raiders. Several bombs were dropped over the ship, one of them falling ahead at half the ship's length and another on the starboard side.

BOMB IN A HANSA BOAT'S HOLD.

One bomb fell into the hold of a Hansa boat and one man was killed and five severely wounded. Another bomb fell among some troops and a third in a crowd, some civilians being killed and wounded. Passengers, some thirty in number, were all calmly on the deck watching the aeroplanes which, Captain Currin says, were clearly seen. The plane was at a height six to seven thousand feet and was continuously fired at.

"A VAIN FORMULA."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "CHRONICLE."

Sir,—May I ask you to publish this correction of what is presumably a printer's error in the leading article headed "A Vain Formula" in your issue of Saturday last, September 23, in which you comment on some remarks I made when taking the chair last week at Simla at a lecture delivered by my friend, Sirdar Jogendra Singh.

By placing between quotation marks a formula which you assume to represent my views, you convey, no doubt inadvertently, the impression that that formula is stated in words which I have actually used. I have used no such words, nor does the formula they appear to embody represent in any way the opinions I hold.—Yours, etc.,

THE WAR.

SUMMARY OF TELEGRAMS.

GREEK REVOLUTION.

SPREADING RAPIDLY.

BRITISH CROSS THE STRUMA.

ALLIED AIR RAID ON ESSEN.

The national movement is extending rapidly in Greece. A "Daily Mail" message from Athens states that the kingdom of Greece is only a name. Athens and Peloponnesus alone remain under the government of Athens. Other parts either have broken free or are wavering. The King's authority is almost gone and even an entrenchment has been thrown up to protect the palace at Tatoi.

M. Venizelos interviewed by the Athens correspondent of the Associated Press, said that he was awaiting the Government's proposals with regard to entering the war. If the King did not hear the voice of the people, the latter must devise what was best to do.

The Revolutionary Committee at Salonika is issuing bonds and debentures exchangeable against shares in State loans issued prior to July 1. A battalion of the Greek revolutionary army has left for the front. Army officers escaping the vigilance of the authorities are constantly arriving at Salonika and other volunteers are steadily flowing into Salonika.

The British in Macedonia have crossed the Struma at three places and occupied Jeviman. The Serbians have further progressed on the plateau of Kajmakalan.

Stubborn fighting is taking place between the Pripet and the Roumanian frontier and the Russians have repelled all counter-attacks and taken 1,500 prisoners.

The occupation of Szekelyudvarhely assures to the Roumanians the possession of one-third of Transylvania of 20,000 square kilometres. It enables the Roumanian front in Transylvania to be shortened from 600 to 300 kilometres.

A Zeppelin appeared over Calais but retreated from furious bombardment without dropping bombs.

Two French aeroplanes dropped 12 bombs on Essen and returned safely after a flight of 500 miles. There were aerial fights on most of the front and several enemy machines were felled.

GREEK REVOLUTION SPREADING.

ONLY ATHENS AND PELOPONNESUS NOW UNDER THE KING.

KINGDOM OF GREECE ONLY A NAME.

KING'S AUTHORITY ALMOST GONE.

TRENCHES DUG TO PROTECT PALACE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

An Athens message to the "Daily Mail," dated the 21st instant, says that the Kingdom of Greece is only a name. Athens and Peloponnesus alone remain under the government of Athens. Other parts either have broken free or are wavering.

LATER.

The following is the message to the "Daily Mail" from Athens, dated the 21st instant:—

The removal of Greek censorship permits the truth to be told.

The Kingdom of Greece is only a name. Salonika, Thasos, Lemnos, Chios, Samos and Mytilene are no longer governed from Athens. Crete and the Cyclades are about to follow suit. A proclamation of Independence has been issued in Epirus. Larrisa and district are biding their time. Phocis and Acarnania are wavering. Only Athens and Peloponnesus remain and Athens is placarded with such appeals as:—"Draw the sword of Kings or abdicate."

The declaration of an ex-courtier which is given prominence in the newspaper "Asty," says that he and other anti-Liberals are hastening to join the revolution because of the Kavalla treachery. Such statements go unpunished.

The King's authority is almost gone and even an entrenchment has been thrown up to protect the palace at Tatoi.

Houses in Athens stored with arms are guarded.

The King dare not challenge the least act of M. Venizelos and if the latter chooses to leave and lead a separate government elsewhere none would oppose him.

NATIONAL MOVEMENT SPREADING.

ALMOST WHOLE OF CRETE WITH REVOLUTIONARIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

Telegrams from Athens state that the national movement is extending.

Army officers escaping the vigilance of the authorities are constantly arriving at Salonika. They already exceed 300. Several have been arrested in the act of leaving at various ports.

Other volunteers are steadily flowing into Salonika. The crew of a Greek steamer at Salonika has mutinied and handed the vessel to the National Committee for transport of volunteers.

A telegram from Heraklion, Candia, to the Government says that the military forces attacked the demonstrators and several were killed and wounded in the fighting, but the revolutionaries captured the town and the abolished civil authorities. The Gendarmes sided with the revolutionaries who are preparing to enter Canea.

The whole of the rest of Crete is in the hands of the revolutionaries.

REVOLUTIONARY COMMITTEES' BONDS.

REVOLUTIONARY BATTALION LEAVES FOR FRONT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

SALONIKA, Sept. 23.

The Revolutionary Committee is issuing bonds and debentures exchangeable against shares in State loans issued prior to July 1st. Subscriptions are receivable in francs at the offices of the Treasury at the French Headquarters.

A battalion of the Greek revolutionary army has left for the front.

A GREEK CRUISER TO JOIN REVOLUTIONARIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

The "Daily Telegraph's" Athens telegram, dated the 22nd instant, says that the Greek Fleet has been ordered to surround the cruiser Georgio Averoff which is suspected of preparing to proceed to Salonika to join the revolutionists.

HOLY CARPET LEAVES FOR MECCA.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

CAIRO, Sept. 24.

The Holy Carpet has left for Mecca after an impressive ceremony at which the Sultan presided. Many Egyptian pilgrims accompany the Carpet.

M. VENIZELOS ON THE SITUATION.

AWAITING GOVERNMENT'S PROPOSALS.

IF KING IS OBDURATE PEOPLE WILL ACT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.

The Athens' correspondent of the Associated Press of America has interviewed M. Venizelos who gave a non-committal reply in answer to the question as to whether he was going to Salonika to head the temporary, revolutionary government.

He said that he was awaiting the Government's proposals with regard to entering the war. If the King did not hear the voice of the people, the latter must devise what was best to do. A long continuation of the present situation was intolerable. Greece has already suffered the agonies and internal hardships of the disastrous war while neutral, and it was estimated that the Bulgarian incursion had cost Greece eight million sterling.

He depicted Greece's sorry position after the war in the event of her failure to participate whichever belligerents were successful though he was confident that the Allies would secure victory.

DANGEROUS STATE OF THINGS.

"MUST BE ENDED."

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

There has been growing anger in the British and Russian press recently at the equivocal attitude of Greece, particularly in view of the well-known pro-Germanism of the Cabinet.

"The Times" denounces the "Cabinet of puppets and intriguers with accomplices lurking in the shadow of the Throne" and says that the present dangerous state of things must be ended.

GREEK CABINET DISQUIETED.

ATTEMPTS TO REASSURE ENTENTE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

ATHENS, Sept. 24.

It appears that the Note of the Allies in June demanded that a business Cabinet should replace the pro-German Gounaris administration.

When M. Kalogeropoulos and his associates succeeded to M. Zaimis they had the hardihood to announce that they were a political Cabinet.

Subsequently they withdrew this but the Entente Ministers ignored both the assertion and retraction and referred the question of recognising them to their Governments.

Meanwhile the Cabinet is disquieted and has been issuing all sorts of statements meant to reassure the Entente.

THE GREEK DEMAND.

BULGARS TO EVACUATE MACEDONIA.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

ATHENS, Sept. 24.

Important issues are said to depend on the German reply to the Greek Note, which according to newspapers, demands that the Bulgars evacuate Macedonia.

The Note declares that the Greek public opinion, the irritation of which has been manifested by frequent revolutionary movements, will, with difficulty, countenance further sojourn of the hereditary enemy on the Greek soil and the continuance of outrages.

GREEKS TAKEN PRISONERS BY BULGARS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

ATHENS, Sept. 24.

It is officially announced that the Bulgarians when they retreated from Florina, compelled a company of Greek infantry to accompany them.

The publication of news which will irritate the people against the Bulgars, is a new departure.

FRESH GREEK NOTE TO GERMANY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

ATHENS, Sept. 25.

It is announced that the Government has addressed a new Note to Berlin with regard to the capture by Bulgarians of a company of Greek soldiers at Florina.

BRITISH CROSS THE STRUMA.

JEVIMAN OCCUPIED.

FRESH SERBIAN PROGRESS

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

A British official message from Salonika says on the Struma front the river has been crossed in three places. Jeviman, which was set on fire, has been occupied and the enemy driven before us.

We met strong opposition attacking Karadzkovbala. A counter-attack from Noveljen was entirely dispersed.

The Naval field artillery successfully bombarded the enemy trenches east of Neohori.

Our patrols were very active on the Doiran front.

Weather conditions are unfavourable owing to mist.

The Serbians have further progressed 250 yards on the plateau of Kajmakalan, in spite of the resistance of the Bulgars who have been reinforced.

The Serbs co-operating in Dobrudja have inflicted heavy loss on the Bulgars and captured eight guns.

VIGOROUS BRITISH ATTACK.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24

A French official message from Salonika says on the left bank of the Struma the British attacked strong Bulgarian detachments, north of Kopriva, and towards Lake Thinos.

Violent Bulgarian counter-attacks against our left wing were repulsed with heavy loss.

The Serbians progressed north-west of Kajmackalan.

STUBBORN FIGHTING ON ROUMANIAN FRONTIER.

SUCCESSFUL RUSSIAN ADVANCE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

A Russian communiqué says stubborn fighting is taking place between Pripet and the Roumanian frontier. The enemy is strongly resisting our advance on the upper Sereth. We have repelled all counter-attacks and taken fifteen hundred prisoners.

ONE-THIRD OF TRANSYLVANIA OCCUPIED.

ROUMANIAN FRONT SHORTENED BY ONE-HALF.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

BUKHAREST, Sept. 24.

The occupation of Szekelyudvarhely assures to the Roumanians the possession of one-third of Transylvania of 20,000 square kilometres.

It enables the Roumanian front in Transylvania to be shortened from 600 to 300 kilomtres.

ROUMANIAN ADVANCE CONTINUES.

PRISONERS TOTAL 6,884.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

BUKHAREST, Sept. 25.

A communiqué says:—On the northern front in the Caliman Mountains our advance continues. Seventy-three prisoners and a machinegun have been captured.

At Hermanstadt we attacked the enemy capturing four officers and 300 men and five machine-guns.

In the Jiu Valley partial enemy actions have been repulsed and two machine guns captured.

The total prisoners on this front hitherto is 48 officers and 6,836 men.

In Dobrudja our left flank has made progress and one officer and 53 men have been captured.

ARMOURED WAGON SERVICE

COLONEL SWINTON DESCRIBES NEW MACHINES TO THE KING.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 25.

The "Pioneer's" London correspondent cables:—

London, 22nd September.—Colonel Swinton, R.E., Commandant of the new Armoured Wagon Service was received by the King yesterday and described the new machines and their work. The King, whose interest in military science and gunnery has always been great, was much pleased with the account given of the work at the front. The King's reception of Colonel Swinton carries its own significance.

FRENCH AIR RAID ON GERMANY.

ESSEN BOMBED.

HASTY RETREAT OF ZEPPELIN OVER CALAIS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, Sept. 25.

Last night's communique said:—Nothing important has occurred to-day apart from the artillery duel south of the Somme and east of the Meuse. Two French aeroplanes dropped twelve bombs on Essen and returned safely after a flight of five hundred miles.

AERIAL BATTLES OVER MOST OF FRONT.

SCORE OF ENEMY AEROPLANES BROUGHT DOWN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, Sept. 24.

A communiqué says the German attack on Bois l'Abbee Farm and southward was dispersed leaving numerous dead. We easily repulsed the German attacks on Pepper Hill and south-east of Thiaumont. There were aerial battles over most of the front. A score of enemy aeroplanes were brought down.

Our artillery was active north of the Somme. The enemy replied feebly.

TWENTY-NINE AERIAL FIGHTS ON THE SOMME.

ENEMY MACHINES FELLED GALORE

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

PARIS, Sept. 24.

A communiqué says there were twenty-nine aerial fights on the Somme. Four enemy aeroplanes were brought down, two on fire, three were badly hit and fell disabled, four were compelled to descend in their own lines, while six were brought down between Chaulnes and Avre, one of them on fire.

A fokker was brought down on fire North of Chalons and another seemed to be badly hit. An enemy aeroplane was riddled at close quarters and came down on Pepper Hill. A fokker dived nose first into its own lines East of St. Mihiel.

A French pilot chased a German twelve miles over the enemy lines in Lorraine and killed the passenger and compelled the machine to descend.

Another enemy machine came down in the forest of Gamecy. Two dived in an abnormal manner into their own lines in Vosges after fights with our pilots.

ARTILLERY ACTIVITY SOUTH OF THE ANCRE.

ENEMY TRENCHES AND PRISONERS TAKEN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

A British communiqué says south of the river Ancre there was artillery activity on both sides. The enemy's trenches were entered east of Neuville St. Vaast and prisoners taken.

THREE ENEMY ATTACKS REPULSED.

FIVE HOSTILE AEROPLANES DESTROYED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, Sept. 25.

General Haig in last night's communiqué said:—South of the Ancre three enemy attacks west of Lesboeufs were repulsed with loss. There was artillery firing at many points.

Five raids by our airmen against the railway stations and the enemy communications inflicted serious damage. Five hostile machines were destroyed in the air fighting yesterday and two others were driven down damaged. Five of our machines are missing.

BATAVIER LINER SEIZED BY GERMANS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

HAGUE, Sept. 25.

The Germans have seized a Batavier liner and taken her to Zeebrugge.

LATEST ZEPPELIN RAID.

OFFICIAL DETAILS.

28 KILLED AND 99 INJURED IN LONDON.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

The official details of the air raid show that only slight damage was done in the provinces, except in one East Midland town, where two were killed and eleven injured. Some damage was done in the Metropolitan area, but of a non-military character.

It is now estimated that twelve airships took part. Considerable number of small dwelling houses and shops were demolished or damaged in the Metropolitan area and a number of fires broke out. Two factories were injured, some empty railway trucks were destroyed and the permanent way slightly damaged in two places.

The details of the casualties in London are seventeen men, eight women and three children killed, and forty-five men, thirty-seven women and seventeen children injured.

NO MATERIAL DAMAGE DONE.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

According to the official details of the air raid it is feared that in the East Midlands town, already mentioned, two more bodies are buried beneath the ruins. Some damage was done to the railway station, a dozen houses and shops were wrecked or damaged and a chapel and a storehouse set on fire. No other casualties outside the Metropolitan area are reported.

Although a large number of bombs were dropped promiscuously in the districts visited, the material damage was insignificant. Numerous bombs fell in the sea and in open places.

LOCALITIES VISITED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

The twenty-eight killed and ninety-nine injured in the Zeppelin raid were in London. Detailed reports of the casualties and damage have not yet been received. The two raiders brought down in Essex were both large and of a new pattern. Fourteen or fifteen airships took part in the attack.

The South-Eastern, Eastern, East Midland counties and Lincolnshire were the principal localities visited. The attack on London was carried out by two airships, from south-east between one and two in the morning, and one from east between twelve and one. The aeroplanes went up. Bombs were dropped in the Southern and South-Eastern districts.

THE TWO FELLED ZEPPELINS

HOW PRISONERS WERE TAKEN.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 25.

Details which have been received regarding the fate of two Zeppelins show that they were both brought down in Essex.

One fell ablaze into a field close to the high road. She struck a tree tearing off branches and this partly broke her fall. The debris was piled up in great mass sixteen feet high. While she was falling 35 bombs were emptied out of the Zeppelin and some of the crew apparently jumped from a great altitude as bodies inquiring that of the commander were found as far as a mile away with the necks broken. The police and troops are guarding the wreck which is being visited by crowds.

The second Zeppelin came down close to a cottage near the coast. Watchers were aroused by the drone of engines and they saw a Zeppelin lumbering towards the sea at the height of 300 feet. Suddenly she turned inland and floated down scraping tops of trees till she settled to earth. Then curses some in guttural English, came from gondolas and the crew clambered out. The Commander thundered at the door of the cottage but was not answered. All conferred together and then three explosions occurred, which smashed the windows. The Germans marched off inland emptying their revolvers into the sky.

People now poured into roads and special constables and the village police awheel and on foot hurried to the scene.

One special meeting the detachment barred the way and said:—"Here you, what's up?" A deep voice replied:—"Which is the way?" The special thus confronted in darkness by a force of foreigners indicated the road but followed till he was joined by a village policeman and another special. Then all three told the Germans they were prisoners. The German commander obeyed the order to surrender and a patrol of soldiers arriving the commander revealed his identity and asked to be allowed to go to the nearest Post Office to telephone someone in London who would inform his wife that he was safe. This request was refused and the Germans were marched off into captivity.

All occurred in darkness in a country lane.

The Zeppelin to-day blocks the road dwarfing trees and buildings. It is stated that she is practically undamaged and her engines are in perfect order. She was obviously hit many times by shells. A search has discovered guns, maps, notes, instructions, telegrams, parts of machinery and German food lying in fields, thrown out before the descent was made.

(For other war telegrams see page 4 and 6.)

HIGH COURT.

ORIGINAL SIDE.

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST "THE CHRONICLE."

EVIDENCE OF PLAINTIFF AND DEFENDANT.

SURAJMAL B MEHTA .....Plaintiff.
v.
B. G. HORNIMAN & OTHERS .....Defendants.
(Before Mr. Justice Macleod.)

The further hearing of the suit filed by Mr. Surajmal B. Mehta, a solicitor of the Bombay High Court, against the Editor, Printer and Publisher of the "Bombay Chronicle" for damages for his defamation in respect of certain articles that appeared in the issues of the "Chronicle" of 7th and 15th March, was resumed before his Lordship on Monday morning. The examination-in-chief of Mr. Surajmal was continued by Mr. Strangman.

Did you see Nanabhoy again after the 15th of March?

He met me in the High Court corridor and told me, "Please take time to consider your position. If you do not accept my terms you are sure to be ruined. I will still get Mr. Horniman to write another article exonerating you from all blame otherwise you are sure to lose your Sanad as a Solicitor. You know that all judges and the Law Society are prejudiced against you and you are sure to come to trouble." I refused to agree to his terms.

Mr. Strangman:—What were his terms?

Mr. Bahadurji said that he did not see why his client should be made to pay the costs of this inquiry into the relations between Mr. Engineer and Mr. Surajmal. His Lordship knew that neither his Lordship nor counsel had anything to do with this inquiry. This was pure waste of time.

His Lordship:—We have not gone into any allegations except those made in reference to the suit.

AN OBJECTION.

Mr. Bahadurji submitted that here was counsel going into the conversation between Nanabhoy and Surajmal. That had nothing to do with the suit. So far as the allegations in that suit were concerned, counsel's business was not to justify those allegations. If there were facts as to which counsel was to prove justification, he would certainly justify them. That was all counsel was called upon to justify. But it was not about those facts that Surajmal was examined by Mr. Strangman.

Mr. Strangman submitted that his case was that Nanabhoy approached Mr. Horniman and instigated him to write, giving him certain facts.

His Lordship:—The question is fairly relevant.

Continuing Mr. Surajmal said:—I refused to pay him commission in respect of certain suits which were brought to my firm by him.

Is that letter in Nanabhoy's handwriting?—Yes.

Was Laxmibai (to whom the letter was written), the widow of Shambhuprasad?—Yes.

Was that handed over to you by the defendant in suit No. 1837 of 1915?—Yes.

When you handed over the correspondence papers to Mansukhlal you did not hand this over?—Yes.

You recollect suit No. 1490 of 1914 being instituted?—Yes, it was instituted on 21st December 1914. The suit was instituted by Dada against me and Vachha and Co. were Dada's solicitors. Engineer was looking after this suit from Vachha's office.

Mr. Strangman then explained to his Lordship what the suit was about. It was a suit for account by a client against his solicitor.

Dada filed objections to the extent of Rs. 54,000 and surcharges to the extent of Rs. 19,000?—Yes, my Lord.

The Commissioner sat on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of January, 1916?—Yes.

There was an application for adjournment on Thursday and Friday which was refused?—Yes.

The Commissioner heard it on Monday and after the change of attorneys, was there a consent decree in the suit?—Yes.

Your costs were taxed at Rs. 5,000 payable by Dada?—Yes, my Lord.

His Lordship:—How could the defendant's, i.e., Surajmal's costs, come to Rs. 5,000.

Mr. Strangman submitted that there was the hearing before the Commissioner for three days and that must have multiplied costs.

His Lordship made some comment which was inaudible.

Mahomedally Huseinally was a client of yours introduced to you by Engineer?—Yes.

The allegations with regard to Mahomedally Huseinaly calling at your office, etc., etc., are untrue?—Yes.

THE JUDGE AND MR. BAHADURJI'S OBJECTIONS.

Mr. Bahadurji again objected to the line of examination pursued by Mr. Strangman. Surely, he said, it ought to be relevant on some issue. He was quite prepared to admit that the Court should assume animus between Engineer and Surajmal.

His Lordship:—You take up a lot of time in objecting.

What happened between you and the Police?—They merely asked me about a cheque of Dada's for Rs. 8,000 which I was alleged to have misappropriated.

Copies of certain letters written by Bhagwanlal to Dada (Suit No. 832 of 1915) were shown to witness.

Those are the documents referred to in item 3 to the plaint's annexture?—Yes.

After the suit was filed, did you give inspection of these to the defendant's attorneys?—Yes.

Were those copies handed to you by Bhagwandas?—Yes.

Mr. Strangman then read these letters to the Court and said that it was admitted in the written statement that there was no reply to those letters.

Can you tell me whether those letters are in the handwriting of Bhagwandas?—Yes.

You handed over these letters to Mansukhlal, Dada's attorneys?—Yes.

Bhagwandas brought a promissory note to you about 12th of June 1915?—Yes, in an envelope.

In whose handwriting are the words Bhagwandas G. Gandhi?—In the handwriting of Mr. Vachha.

And the pencil words?—In the handwriting of Shambhuprasad.

His Lordship:—How would Vachha's handwriting come in?—Bhagvandas was his clerk for some time. The pro-note was in the safe of Mr. Vachha.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Witness was then cross-examined by Mr. Bahadurji.

Mr. Dada is a very rich man?—Yes.

Mr. Dada held 23 properties in Bombay?—Several properties.

His income from the properties was about Rs. 3,000 a month?—His income was between Rs. 2,000 and Rs. 3,000.

Somewhere between three and four lakhs passed through your hands while he was your client?—Yes.

During the time that you knew him, he never was in straitened circumstances?—Never.

He borrowed from you Rs. 10,000?—Yes and he returned it within three months.

Do you know of any other borrowing of his?—He borrowed Rs. 30,000 from Mr. P C. Sethna. He himself used to borrow on hundis.

So far as you know, he has repaid all sums he has borrowed and within due time?—Yes.

In 1915 Dada was not in straitened circumstances so far as you know?—Yes, he was not in straitened circumstances.

Can you explain why Bhagwandas should write in his letter of 17th May 1915, to Dada that Dada was in straitened circumstances?—I have no knowledge of that point.

That Dada was unable to pay Rs. 3,000 is not surprising to you?—No.

Is it not surprising to you that he should be unable to pay Rs. 3,000 for a period of two years?—No.

It was in his power to pay Rs. 3,000 up to the end of 1914 when he left you?—Yes.

A VALUABLE CLIENT.

Dada was a very valuable client to you?—Yes.

He was the means of giving you a very substantial income during the time he was your client?—Yes.

So was Holkar?—Yes.

After Khambata waived the claim you advised Holkar to give an indemnity bond?—Yes, on counsel's advice.

Upto that time you acted for Aishabai and Holkar?—Yes.

You stayed for about 21 days at Mahableshwar?—Yes.

At Holkar's cost?—Yes.

You charged him at the rate of Rs. 300 a day for 21 days?—Yes.

Were the indemnity bond and the conveyance the only business for which you went?—Yes and some business in which a petition was to be drafted to the Maharaja of Indore.

You have not charged anything for drafting the petition?—No.

You knew a woman named Lily Shaw?—No, I knew her by name only.

She was in the keeping of Holkar?—Yes; in a separate bungalow.

She filed a suit against Holkar when he discarded her?—Yes.

In that suit you appeared for Holkar?—Yes.

About four or five witnesses including Holkar were to be examined on commission?—Yes.

Holkar was not examined on commission?—No.

Only four or five persons were examined?—Yes.

You made a bill of Rs. 35,000?—Yes, the bill was taxed for about Rs. 30,000 or Rs. 35,000.

The suit was settled?—Yes, I do not know how much was paid to Lily Shaw.

QUESTIONS DISALLOWED.

His Lordship did not allow any further questions on the subject to be put as being irrelevant and said "You will have to pay for it if you do."

Was any allegation to your knowledge made against you?

His Lordship would not allow the question to be put.

You know the suit filed by Morarji against you?—The summons was not served against me.

Very serious allegations were made against you?—I do not know; but, I know that the heirs of the plaintiff asked for accounts.

Mr. Bahadurji was not allowed by his Lordship to put in the plaint in that suit on the ground that mere allegations in the plaint when the suit was not proceeded with and the written statement not filed, did not go to the discredit of the witness.

You appeared in a case before Mr. Kemp?—Yes.

And the Judge made adverse comments against you?—Yes.

Mr. Strangman objected that the question was irrelevant under sections 40, 41 and 42 of the Evidence Act.

Mr. Bahadurji submitted that it was a general question asking the witness whether he was aware of the fact. As a question of fact he was entitled to put it.

His Lordship ruled the question out as irrelevant.

Mr. Bahadurji asked his Lordship to take a note that he wanted to ask similar questions with regard to two other similar suits but did not put them to the witness because of his Lordship's objection.

THE SETTLEMENT OF HOLKAR'S CASE.

It did not strike you as strange that the suit was settled by Nanabhoy and Dada?—No.

Did Holkar consult you before settling?—Yes, a month or two before settling.

How often used Dada to come to your office?—Several times in a month he used to come to my office.

You never even once discussed Aishabai's suit against Holkar with Dada?—No, because, he was the opposite party.

During the pendency of the suit, Dada and Holkar were both in your office and the settlement of the suit was discussed in your presence?—No.

Was Holkar anxious to settle the suit?—Yes.

Did he give you any instructions to settle?—He left it to Nanabhoy and Vinayakrao to settle the suit.

When was that?—About a month or two before January 1914.

After that did you do anything in the matter of settlement?—No.

Did you ask Nanabhoy or Vinayakrao what the terms were?—No.

Did you not think it your duty to tell Nanabhoy to consult him about the terms?—No.

Did Nanabhoy ever consult you in the matter?—He did not consult me.

Did you think it was a fair settlement?

His Lordship: What has he got to do with it?

NO INTEREST IN THE SETTLEMENT.

His Lordship disallowed the question.

If you did not take any interest, why did you draft the receipt and the notice for Holkar?

Holkar's agent and Nanabhoy came and asked me to draft it and said that the suit was settled.

Nanabhoy could have drafted this, as he was doing everything for Holkar in this suit?—Yes.

When you drafted these, you knew that D'Cunha had not communicated with with regard to the settlement?—Yes.

You did not think it your duty?—No.

Did you not think it wrong that this suit was settled by your managing clerk and Dada without the intervention of D'Cunha?—No. So long as no attempt is made to deprive the solicitor of his costs, nothing is wrong.

If the terms of settlement are such that the costs of the attorneys on the other side are endangered would you not think it improper?—No, it would not be improper.

A cheque for Rs. 9,000 was paid to Dada direct and not through the medium of you as a solicitor?—Yes.

In this settlement, there was a probability of the other parties' costs being endangered?—None, whatever.

Mr. D'Cunha's client was Aishabai and if she did not pay D'Cunha, he could have no remedy?

He could have a remedy; he could attach her properties.

Has she any properties to your own knowledge?—No.

A letter of Wednesday the 12th of some month in 1913 was handed to witness.

When this letter was written, you were at Mhow?—Yes, and the letter was not written at my instructions although the letter among other things say "Sheth Surajmal says that so and so on."

Did you instruct your counsel that Vachha should apologise to you in the matter of Huseinally?—Yes. He came to my office and apologised.

If Vachha denies it are you prepared to say so still?—Yes.

Mr. Strangman did not re-examine the witness and submitted that that was his case.

Mr. Bahadurji:—I shall call my evidence unless your Lordship wants to hear my case.

His Lordship:—I would like to hear your case first.

FACT OR COMMENT?

Mr. Bahadurji submitted that the articles substantially reproduced the report of the case and then commented on the facts of the case.

Mr. Bahadurji then read portions of the first article and said that up to the words "the plaintiff had adopted a very wise course," they were a recital of bare facts. There was no innuendo in those words and no innuendo was pleaded. The words that "the plaintiff was a creature, etc., etc.," was a comment.

His Lordship:—Did the circumstances reveal that the plaintiff was the creature of Surajmal?

Mr. Bahadurji:—What we do say is that if you look at the pleadings and the trial, you could infer that plaintiff was the creature of Surajmal. It is not an assertion of a fact by the writer, but his inference after reading the pleadings, the course of the trial and the course which the trial ultimately took. The question then for your Lordship is whether this was a possible inference drawn by the writer, having regard to all the circumstances of the case.

His Lordship:—You assert that it has been revealed at the trial that the plaintiff was the creature of Surajmal. You do not say that in your opinion he was a creature of Surajmal.

Mr. Bahadurji submitted that the writer merely gave a passing opinion formed from the circumstances of the case. If it was an assertion of a fact, it would be framed quite differently.

His Lordship:—You may twist your words as you please, but what does the sentence mean in plain English? This, that the circumstances revealed in the Court and at the trial showed that the plaintiff was the creature of Surajmal.

Mr. Bahadurji submitted that the fact still remained that it was merely an observation or inference from the circumstances revealed in the case.

"PURELY COMMENT."

As regards the further sentence it was purely comment to say that these matters were such as required further inquiry.

His Lordship:—"That Mr. Surajmal was thus content, etc., etc." Is that not a statement of fact? Does it not imply that he had the conduct of the case?

Mr. Bahadurji submitted that in answer to Mr. Strangman. Mr. Surajmal said that he was indifferent. Was it not a fair comment, therefore, to say that when the case was thus withdrawn, he should have tried to have the matter cleared up? The allegation in the suit being that the plaintiff was the creature of Surajmal, the writer was justified in saying that Surajmal ought not to have remained content but should have allowed the matter to be cleared up.

After the recess hour Mr. Bahadurji continued his address.

ONLY A RESTATEMENT OF ALLEGATIONS.

The statement regarding the settlement of the suit over the head of the solicitor of the plaintiff in the article was only a re-statement of an allegation made and not a statement made by the writer. This was made clear by para 4 of the written statement of Dada. A person reading that paragraph could only infer that the settlement was arrived at between Surajmal and Dada direct.

His Lordship: There is no allegation there that Surajmal settled the suit over the head of the solicitor. You people have twisted the allegation into that. There is no allegation of anything wrong in the written statement.

Mr. Bahadurji: Is not the statement in the article merely a paraphrase of the passage in the written statement?

His Lordship:—Do you call that thing a paraphrase?

Mr. Bahadurji said that their comment came later where they said that if the allegation was true, Surajmal was not a fit and proper person to continue as a solicitor.

His Lordship:—Dada does not complain about the settlement.

Mr. Bahadurji: He may not complain but what he says amounts to a charge against Surajmal of unprofessional conduct. Dada's words are "I settled the suit with Surajmal direct." This was not proper conduct in the profession. As to the statement that there was an allegation that a letter had been written by Surajmal, he admitted there was no such allegation in the pleadings or evidence in the suit. Then followed the words beginning "as a matter of fact, etc."

His Lordship:—You say "as a matter of fact."

Mr. Bahadurji:—The fact was gathered from the proceedings in the suit. The article must be read as a whole. That portion was comment on para 4 read with the letter.

His Lordship:—Is it fair comment? You assume the truth of the allegation made.

Mr. Bahadurji:—The writer only said one or the other was true. Suppose the words "we find from the proceedings" had come after "as a matter of fact." He submitted the sense of the article was as if those words were there. He admitted that the letter did not appear in the proceedings; but if he gathered information outside he was entitled to comment on it. Of course they had to prove the information to be true.

His Lordship:—Before you could be allowed to comment on it you must prove it to be true.

Mr. Bahadurji:—I have to prove an intention. That intention was a matter of inference. It would appear from various pieces of evidence which we would call.

Mr. Bahadurji continuing said that as to defamation Surajmal himself did not think there was anything wrong or improper in settling a suit direct without the intervention of the solicitor.

A GENERAL ANSWER.

His Lordship:—That was a general answer.

Mr. Bahadurji:—But it applies to this particular case.

His Lordship:—That was an abstract question. Here you have alleged a particular fact.

Mr. Bahadurji:—The plaintiff himself does not consider that conduct improper; how could it be libel then to charge him with it?

His Lordship:—You are trying to make out his conduct dishonourable; surely, that is libellous.

Mr. Bahadurji:—But if the plaintiff himself did not consider it libellous, how could the Court do it?

Mr. Bahadurji then read and commented on the second article. The first part of it was not complained of. Then there came merely a repetition of the first article.

His Lordship:—Here you enlarge a bit. You say he paid the money by his own cheque.

Mr. Bahadurji:—It made no difference to say that Surajmal paid a cheque on his own cheque. The statement was by way of an inference from para 4 of the written statement. What followed was a matter of deduction from para 4 of the written statement and the letter.

His Lordship:—Is it comment to say "as a matter of fact there was no intervention of an agent?"

Mr. Bahadurji submitted it was. It was only a contrast drawn between the para in the written statement and the letter. Then the writer gave a resumé of the evidence and observed that the matter should not be left at that stage.

His Lordship:—How was the writer entitled to make that presumption that there were materials to support the defendant's allegations in that suit?

A NATURAL PRESUMPTION.

Mr. Bahadurji:—It was a natural presumption to make. There was nothing defamatory in the further portion of that article. The object of the articles was to draw the attention of the authorities.

His Lordship:—Was there any foundation about this allegation of Surajmal having drafted the notice to Holkar?

Mr. Bahadurji:—He was being instructed by Mr. Nariman at the time. He could not say what material Mr. Nariman had. So far as he knew there was no document to justify the allegation.

His Lordship:—It was a scandalous question to ask if there was no foundation for it.

Mr. Bahadurji:—From the way in which Mr. Surajmal had given his evidence in that suit it appeared that there must have been some such document in existence. It was admittedly wrong to have drafted a notice in that manner and Mr. Surajmal must have been concious of that. Yet, when the thing was put to him instead of indifferently repudiating having done anything of the kind he said he might have done it.

Mr. Bahadurji then read portions of the evidence given by Mr. Surajmal in the suit before Mr. Justice Davar.

His Lordship:—Is it true that Mr. Davar flourished a paper?

Mr. Bahadurji:—Even if Mr. Davar did what did it matter to an honest witness? Mr. Surajmal's answer showed that he had a guilty conscience.

His Lordship:—I should never have allowed the question without knowing what the paper was. As it is I attach no importance to the matter

Mr. Bahadurji:—I shall tell your Lordship what happened in court. I was sitting by Mr. Davar when Mr. Surajmal was being cross-examined. Mr. Vachha came up at the time and handed some papers to me and I began reading them. That apparently frightened Mr. Surajmal. There was no flourishing of a paper by Mr. Davar.

Mr. Bahadurji then read further portions of the evidence given by Mr. Surajmal and submitted that the evidence was such as to leave an impression on one's mind that an inquiry was necessary.

His Lordship:—The whole comment was based on the assumption that Mr. Surajmal was the real plaintiff and that he had allowed the suit to be dismissed.

Mr. Bahadurji said that as an officer of the court Mr. Surajmal ought not to have allowed the suit to be dismissed without giving him an opportunity of a denial. That placid attitude of Mr. Surajmal was surprising and that is all that the articles said.

His Lordship:—Why should Surajmal wish to go on further? He had denied all the allegations in examination-in-chief.

1ST DEFENDANT'S EVIDENCE.

Mr. B. G. Horniman was then examined by Mr. Bahadurji.

Mr. Horniman said in his examination-in-chief by Mr. Desai that he was the Editor of the "Bombay Chronicle." He had been a journalist for the last 22 years and had been connected with the editorial staff of various newspapers at Home. He read the report of the case of Bhagwandas v. Dada first on February 27th. One of his sub-editors who had instructions to draw his attention to anything particular, brought him the manuscript report drawing his attention to the allegations. On the 28th Mr. Bhattacharya brought the report of the law reporters giving the final result of the suit. He had a brief conversation with Mr. Bhattacharya about it and the upshot of it was that they decided to get more information from Mr. Nanabhoy. The report told him that Nanabhoy was Surajmal's clerk at the time the events happened and so they thought of Nanabhoy. Nanabhoy was sent for and he was asked to bring the record. On the second visit he brought the copy proceedings in the suit and some observations. The first article he wrote appeared on the 7th March. It was not true that he wrote any part of that article maliciously or at anybody's instigation.

Mr. Desai:—Was the statement in the article that the plaintiff was a creature of Surajmal a statement of fact or comment?

His Lordship:—That is a question of construction for the Court.

Mr. Horniman continuing said that the second article appeared on the 15th. It was not true that he wrote any part of that article out of malice.

To the Court Mr. Horniman said that he saw Nanabhoy once between the writing of the two articles.

Cross-examined by Mr. Strangman, he said that he did not know Nanabhoy before that. He knew Dada, the defendant but not in March, 1916. A hundi broker called Vithaldas had introduced Dada to the witness in May last. Nanabhoy was not present. He had borrowed money from Dada. It was Rs. 600. It was on May 18th of this year. He never borrowed from him before that. There was only that single transaction When Nanabhoy was brought to him he did not ask him in whose employment he was. He knew he was at Vachha and Co's; but he could not tell whether he then knew that Vachha and Co., were not the solicitors concerned in the suit. He had read the report in the newspaper which gave the names of the solicitors. He must probably have read that Ardeshir Hormusji Dinshaw and Co. were the defendants' solicitors. He did not know any of the antecedents of Nanabhoy when he sent for him. He knew from the report at the time that Nanabhoy was inimical to Surajmal. He had entirely written the article of the 7th. He had based it on the plaint, written statement and observations. The letter referred to in the article was quoted in the observations.

ALLEGATIONS REMAINED UNREFUTED.

The statement in the article that the allegations against Surajmal were unrefuted meant that the cross-examination having been left unfinished many matters which required explanation were left unexplained. He did not consider merely a denial in examination-in-chief as by Mr. Surajmal could have been enough for any self-respecting man. He considered the whole of the allegations were unrefuted. He did not consider Surajmal's statement that the allegations made against him by the defendant were all false was sufficient to clear a man's character. In his opinion that did not refute the allegations at all. He had been in Court all the time that the hearing had been in progress and he was still of that opinion, after hearing the evidence, that the inference was that Shambhuprasad was Surajmal's nominee.

Do you maintain that opinion still, after hearing the evidence here given by Mr. Surajmal?

Mr. Bahadurji:—That question is irrelevant. We have nothing to do with Mr. Horniman's present opinion here.

His Lordship:—You are entitled to ask him whether he thinks the allegation is true.

Mr. Horniman, answering the question said that his opinion still was that Shambhuprasad was Surajmal's nominee. He still said that that was the inference to be drawn from the evidence. He thought still that it was a fair inference that the suit against Holkar had been instigated by Suraimal.

Do you still maintain having regard to the evidence that Surajmal drafted the notice to Holkar?

Mr. Bahadurji:—How is Mr. Horniman's present opinion relevant as to the defamatory nature of the articles?

His Lordship:—Question allowed.

Mr. Horniman, in answer to the question said that he still maintained that it was a fair inference to draw. He still said that it was a fair inference from the pleadings and proceedings of the former suit and the evidence in the present suit that Surajmal had settled the suit over the head of Dada's solicitor.

At this stage the Court adjourned.

THE LAST PUSH.

ELEVEN "VITAL" POINTS CAPTURED

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, Sept. 25.

A "Times" message from Headquarters says that the British on the Somme last week won their greatest success in two and a half months' fighting.

A captured German staff map shows eleven points marked, "Vital. On no account to be lost." We have captured them all.

The whole ridge is a continuous chain of fortresses and it has been a ceaseless body-to-body struggle for ten weeks.

The actual territory won is 53 square miles but if all the lines of fortresses could be strung on end they would reach for several hundred miles.

The expenditure of artillery ammunition on both sides must have been 25 million rounds.

ON ECONOMISING MUNITIONS.

REPRISALS TO BE REDUCED TO LOWEST LIMITS.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.

Reuter's correspondent at Headquarters reverts to General Falkenhayn's statement regarding economising munitions and quotes a passage forbidding unnecessary firing and which says that reprisals must be reduced to the lowest limits. Efforts are to be made, even where there is tactical necessity for bombardment, to attain the object with only absolutely necessary expenditure, and General Falkenhayn urges that in the case of barrage, firing guns are to be fired in a series, allowing each to cool.

It seems that Krupp's quality and endurance cannot compete with the British ordnance and the correspondent dwells on the thunder of our guns, which do not economise.

General Falkenhayn urges that good observations must be made, without which fire will be waste of ammunition. Seeing that the Germans have been driven off practically the whole of the high ground between Thiepval and Flers, and that aviators seldom venture amongst ours, it is difficult to understand how this is to be carried out.

HEALTHY HAIR HINTS.

The idea that baldness is a sign of intellectuality is fast being exploded.

The hair is not pushed out of the head by the great knowledge inside.

In fact many learned men use Kaminia Oil to prevent their hair from coming out. They are succeeding with it, too.

So are many in all stages of intellectuality.

Available everywhere but it must be Kaminia Oil.

TO THE HOUSEWIFE:—

Discard uncouth, unhealthy ways,
So sloven, smelly, sooty, slow,
Damp coal in these uncertain days,
Or unwilling timber's fickle glow.

To save in time and save in wealth,

Bombay, 20th February 1915.

Dear Sirs,

Allow me to write you how pleased I am with the Britannic bicycle which I bought of you in 1911 and is in no way worst off. I have used it every day whether it rained or was dry and I am really pleased with the machine. I could not find words to express my pleasure, but looking to the price, the machine seems to be far cheaper than any one on the market.

Yours faithfully,
(Sd.) J. S. B.
